

Print Pondering

Something to think about while you're waiting on your print job.

Just the Facts

- A pig named Joy holds the Guinness Record for performing the most tricks, 13 tricks.
- The first recorded Guinness Book record was the construction of the Pentagon as the largest office building.
- Kevin Fast pulled a 188-ton airplane 28 feet.
- David Scott performed the longest stand-up comedy show, lasting 40 hours and 8 minutes telling jokes.
- Charles Osborne started hiccupping in 1922 and didn't stop until February 1990.
- Eric Booker drank a two liter bottle of soda in 18.45 seconds.
- Ashrita Furman pushed an orange with his nose for one mile in 22 minutes and 41 seconds.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE GREAT TO START,
BUT YOU HAVE TO START TO BE GREAT.

Zig Ziglar

Pets as a Present?

With the holidays quickly approaching, are you considering getting a pet or giving a pet as a holiday gift? This article addresses the question of surprising someone with a pet and gives some suggestions on what you should do before you actually gift an animal. The suggestion I liked best was giving a stuffed animal as a gift with a note explaining your gift. Then taking the recipient to select their own pet. It is a very entertaining article.

<https://be.chewy.com/giving-pets-as-gifts/>

Jelly or Jam?

Over Thanksgiving, we were having a discussion of the difference between dressing and stuffing. I still don't feel like I got a good answer to that question. But it made me think about jelly and jam, and then pancakes and waffles. And then my brain slid into teacher mode and made me think of the classroom game 'Would you Rather'. What's the point of this game? In a classroom, it is to get kids thinking and talking. At a holiday party, family gathering, or just friends hanging out, you can use This or That, or Would You Rather, to break the ice, start a conversation, or just for a laugh.

<https://www.ricotta.team/blog/this-or-that-questions>

