

Print Pondering

Something to think about while you're waiting on your print job.

Just the Facts

- There are 18 different Citation Style guides available for use when writing an article or paper.
- Depending on which scientist you listen to, there are anywhere from 5 to 8 Kingdom classifications in Biology.
- 1000 is the only number from 0 to 1000 that has an "a" in it and every odd number has an "e".
- During World War II, a Great Dane named Juliana was awarded the Blue Cross Medal. She extinguished an incendiary bomb by peeing on it.
- Physical education dates back to ancient Greece. It was a necessity in training both Greek soldiers and athletes.

Shower Thoughts

My mind wanders when I am driving home at the end of the day. I found this article that says that deep thoughts and steamy showers apparently go hand-in-hand. It claims that taking a shower allows us to relax. And as the brain starts to wind down, our prefrontal cortex (where your more complex thinking and decision-making occurs) sort of goes into autopilot. This allows the mind to drift away in wonder. I'm not a shower wonderer, but I do wonder what some of your wonders are? (Full article at this QR Code)

Funny Things to Say

Ready to leave the seriousness and stress of the day behind you for a little bit? These funny things to say will do the trick! This article lists 100 funny things to say to make others laugh out loud. Here's an example: "You should always knock before opening a fridge, just in case there's a salad dressing inside". Or try this ~ "6:30 is the best time on a clock, hands down". Or finally, "We place too much emphasis on the early bird's good luck and not enough on the early worm's bad luck".
